THAT THERE ARE LOVES THAT KILL?

exotic species

- In a globalised world, transport and trade DISPERSE WILD SPECIES throughout the world

- Currently, exotic species are considered the second cause of BIODIVERSITY LOSS

- Therefore, releasing a pet is not an act of love towards nature but something that PUTS IT IN DANGERT

- An exotic species, outside its original environment, often lacks sufficient natural enemies or effective competitors and BEGINS TO EXPAND, OFTEN OUT OF CONTROL

- But they are not only dangerous to other species and our native ecosystems: they can also DAMAGE THE ECONOMY AND THREATEN OUR HEALTH

- AVOID ILLEGAL ANIMAL TRADE AND RELEASE!
